

"After working with our previous accountants for 15 years it was obviously a massive and very difficult decision to move away from them, and find a new accountant to work with. We felt our needs had changed and with a second generation of the family taking over the business the management team had new ideas and a new way of thinking. We needed an accountant to match our ambition and who understood the direction we were taking. What we have found with Mark Holt & Co is a team of accountants who really care about our business and are always looking at ways we can improve not only the financial side, but have also been forthcoming with ideas and techniques to improve the way we go about our day to day business.

Ideas on sales and marketing have provided energy, enthusiasm and a clear focus for our efforts, whilst tax planning work is already saving us over £32k per annum. The great thing is that in addition to this proactive and creative input the compliance work has also been completed quickly and efficiently.

It is very refreshing to see a firm of accountants who understand that business has changed over the years and have clearly looked at how and what they can offer their clients to help them with the new challenges businesses are faced with today."
